The Avalanche- Little Rock special tonight says: The Senate passed the House resolution fixing Saturday as the day of adjournment. The House joint, resolution memorializing Congress for the removal of disabilities was referred to the Judiciary Committee. The Senate met as a High Court of Impeachment and took up the case of Chief Justice McClure; the respondent was permitted to read his statement of the case, which was very elaborate, occupying one hour. He gives a complete history of the late struggle. His document seems to be intended mercely as a defence of Clayton. After this the court took a recess. On reassembling, Judge Wilshire opened the fargument on the demurrer of the respondents.

THE MERIDIAN MASSACRE.

Account of the Court-Room Riot by a Colored Victim---The Shoeting

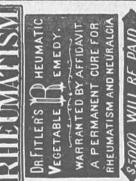

We are beginning to get a little light bout this affair. The Jackson Pilot pubishes a statement of J. Aaron Moore, colored member of the Legislature, who resides at Meridian, and fled to Jackson. Mr. Moore saved the house which the "Citizens' Committee" thought was burn ed for the insurance. He was arrested for using incendiary language. Here is "At the examination, where I arrived about 3 r. x., Judge Bramlette was preabout 3 r. m., Judge Bramlette was presiding. The charge of making speeches on Saturday was being examined. The defendants were Warren Tyler, William Clopton, alias Dennis, and myself, all colored. Mr. Ford, the Prosecuting Attorney, asked what I had to say. I said I was not guilty, and did not know anything of it. I needed no attorney, for I had done nothing. The wincesses were thing of it. I needed no attorney, for I had done nothing. The witnesses were then examined. They seemed to agree that Tyler and Clopton had made flaming speeches, but that mine was on the side of peace and good order. Mr. Brantly, a white man, gave his testimony. At this time all the colored policemen were called in. The Mayor had been in the room, but only remained a few minutes. The prosecuting attorney asked Brantly what he had heard Tyler say on the street that (Monday) morning. He the street that (Monday) morning. He answered that he was passing along the street when he heard "this boy here" (he answered that he was passing along the street, when he heard "this boy here" (he did not know his name) say that "the did not know his name) say that "the Democrats were getting frightened." Brantly testified that he called Tyler a d—d llar, and that he had a great mind to shoot him down or blow his brains out on the spot. At this, Tyler said that he desired Brantly to keep the floor for a moment, until he could go out and get two men who would impeach his (Brantly's) testimony. Brantly replied: "What two men who would impeach his (Bran-tly's) testimony. Brantly replied: "What did you say?" Tyler repeated his re-mark, when Brantly caught up the hickory stick of the city marshal from a table near and with it started for Tyler. The last I remember of it, Tyler was retreating backward towards the sheriff's room. heard several say, "Shoot him! shoot him!" I had just got behind Judge Bramlette when I heard the shot, and the Judge fell to the floor. I fell with him, he falling directly upon my lef shoulder. I was not hit, but the blood from
